

European Heart Journal Supplements

Volume 25 Supplement A February 2023

What if flu vaccination is the most responsible thing to do for cardiovascular health in the upcoming season? M. Volpe and A. Battistoni	A1
Influenza and cardiovascular disease pathophysiology: strings attached K.G. Skaarup, D. Modin, L. Nielsen, J.U.S. Jensen, and T. Biering-Sørensen	A5
Myocardial infarction and viral triggers: what do we know by now? D. Caldeira and B. Nogueira-Garcia	A12
Vaccines and cardiovascular outcomes: lessons learned from influenza epidemics S.H. Yedlapati, A. Mendu, V.R. Tummala, S.S. Maganti, K. Nasir, and S.U. Khan	A17
The impact of influenza vaccination on cardiovascular diseases A. Carro	A25
A recent experience on the role of influenza vaccination on cardiovascular events M.I. Sosa-Liprandi, E.J. Zaidel, and Á. Sosa-Liprandi	A31
Influenza vaccination in patients affected by diabetes M. Verket, M. Jacobsen, K. Schütt, N. Marx, and D. Müller-Wieland	A36
The impact of COVID-19 and COVID vaccination on cardiovascular outcomes Z. Akhtar, M. Trent, A. Moa, T.C. Tan, O. Fröbert, and C.R. MacIntyre	A42

